Benefits to PhD / EdD or equivalent Students

- PhD/EdD or equivalent Bursary Award submissions may be made available on the ASCILITE and/or conference website.
- Winners receive complimentary conference registration, three nights accommodation and ASCILITE membership for one year.
- Winners will be included in the Awards Ceremony at the ASCILITE conference and if there is a sponsor for the award, they will be requested to be present at the Awards Ceremony.
- The recipients could participant in mentoring opportunities.
- In addition, one PhD/EdD or equivalent student Best Paper award will be announced and awarded at the yearly conference (this may not be a Student Bursary recipient).

How to apply

To apply for a bursary, PhD/EdD or equivalent students must complete the Nomination Form which requires applicants to:

- Attach proof of full-time PhD/EdD or equivalent student status, i.e. letter of offer into candidature.
- Submit a link to a 3 – 5 minute video that demonstrates how the applicant communicates through the use of educational technologies and explains why the applicant should receive the bursary. Applicants may use any acceptable format to create the video, e.g. talking head, animation, story, etc. Applicants must upload their video submission to an accessible video server for adjudication.
- Please note that the winner's submission will be made available on the ASCILITE website and you will need to provide permission for this.
- Applicants must become a member of ASCILITE to qualify for a bursary ($75 per annum) and this fee will be reimbursed to the winning applicant.
